NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE HISTORIAN AND DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF
ARCHIVES AND HISTORY FOR THE STATE OF GEORGIA

TO THE STATE HISTORICAL COMMISSION,

HON. L. G. HARDMAN,

Ex-Officio Chairman:

The program of work formulated for the Department some years ago and followed with only minor changes since shows the activities during the past fifteen months largely a continuation of lines annually reported on and falling under the three heads—cataloging, compiling and publishing.

Taking the three divisions in inverse order:

The publication for this period, Revolutionary Soldiers' Receipts for Georgia Bounty Grants, is a facsimile reproduction of the original record in the custody of the State Historian, plus a comprehensive index. The peculiar historical value of the offering, fully preserved by the lithogravure process, has brought favorable criticism from many sources. The book was issued in January of this year and the cost of publication was paid from the Department's 1927 maintenance fund.

Compiling of records consisted mainly of rosters of the judges of the supreme court and court of appeals, judges and solicitors-general of the superior courts, and judges and solicitors of the county and city courts, from the creation of each to the present; judges and attorneys for the courts of the senatorial districts, 1870-1871; and justices of the inferior courts, of which there were five for each county, appointed quadrennially, 1792-1868. These rosters with the calendars of counties comprising the judicial circuits and the changes occurring therein from time to time will form the historical chapter of the 1929 edition of Georgia's Official Register.

Cataloging of loose documents was continued throughout the period and many hundreds of letters, appointments, resignations, lists, etc., were added to the cataloged items. Since the collection of separate papers numbers some 350,000 and is being constantly added to by both state officials and private individuals, cataloging will continue a major activity for the next two or three years. After that the indexing of records should receive the greater part of this time allotment.

Accessions for the period include:

TENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE HISTORIAN AND DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF
ARCHIVES AND HISTORY FOR THE STATE OF GEORGIA

TO THE STATE HISTORICAL COMMISSION,

HON. L. G. HARDMAN,

Ex-Officio Chairman:

The tenth year in the history of the Department of Archives and History brought two events of supreme importance in its upbuilding. The first of these was the taking over of the early records of Franklin County, for which authority is found in the law creating the Department and examples in the Departments of Archives and History of the more progressive states. These records, covering the period 1784-1860, include some 300 books and pamphlets and some 75,000 loose papers. Wills, marriage records, inventories of estates, guardianship papers, land grants, tax digests, court records for both the Inferior and Superior Courts, etc., constitute the collection and furnish to the researcher an economic, social and moral picture of the life of the people. Books and pamphlets are practically cataloged and a number of these will be mended and rebound in the next few months. Preliminary assortment of the loose papers, including the alphabetical arrangement of the wills and marriage bonds, preparatory for cataloging has been completed and the papers are filed in dust-proof, light-proof boxes. The collection is kept intact.

The second significant occurrence was the offer of the residence, 1516 Peachtree Street NW, of the late Mr. A. G. Rhodes, as a permanent home for the Department. This offer made through Mr. Cam Dorsey, representative of the heirs, Mr. J. D. Rhodes and Mrs. L. O. Bricker, is one of the finest and best built houses in Fulton County, is practically fireproof, and is in excellent condition. The sole condition attached to the gift is that of occupancy and if accepted by the Legislature possession will be given September 1st. The Historical Commission in a called meeting, May 1, 1929, considered the informal tender of the house and voted unanimously for its acceptance.

Routine work included the usual calendaring of loose papers, approximately 10,000 being added to the cataloged collection; the chronological arrangement by county of all original appointments of county officials, justices of the Inferior Courts, justices of the peace, and tax collectors and receivers, numbering respectively, 11,000, 12,000, 33,000 and 11,000; and the preparation of the 1929 edition of Georgia's Official Register, which is now in the hands of the printer. Six of the nine chapters of the Register contain additions or elaborations of material, such as brief sketches of the capitol departments, constitutional provisions relative to the legislature, faculties of the various State Institutions, certain election returns not heretofore available, roster of counties with the Australian ballot, post offices in the State, officers of the Georgia National Guard, etc.

Copies of some 30 letters on file in the Department were prepared and submitted to Dr. E. M. Coulter, editor of the Georgia Historical Quarterly. Three of these appeared in the June 1929 edition and the others will be included in future issues of the Quarterly, according to a recent statement of Dr. Coulter.

The Atlanta Journal of Feb. 15, 1929 carried on the editorial page the 16 pp. letter of Lieut. Thomas M. Brumby, descriptive of the American occupation of Manila in 1898. This letter, never before in print, was one of the valuable gifts of 1928.

Photostats of letters and documents, numbering some 430 pp., were furnished the Florida Historical Society through Dr. J. A. Robertson, the executive secretary, who spent two weeks in April with us.

The accessions of the year are:

A brief survey of the Department during its ten years of existence shows the following facts. Created by legislative act of 1918, effective Jan. 1, 1919, for the primary purpose of concentrating manuscript records and holding some official responsible for their care and usage. A collection amounting to some 10,000 bound volumes and some 400,000 loose papers, collected largely from the several departments and particularly from the basement of the Capitol; the Franklin County records, numbering 300 volumes and 75,000 loose papers; the John Ward Walker Collection of personal papers and the Julia Watson Collection of semi-official material. Museum gifts to the number of nearly two hundred with the outstanding articles the Frank McCarron collection of Spanish-American War relics, the roll-chair and the best known portrait of Alexander H. Stephens, and the gold pen with which Woodrow Wilson signed the Smith-Hughes Act. The effort to recover through the N. Y. courts the Joseph Stanley will containing the signature of Button Gwinnett and the finding of a Gwinnett signature in the Department's collection. The return of several hundred valuable papers, including the journal of the Convention ratifying the Federal Constitution, the journals of the Constitutional Conventions of January and May, 1798, etc., which had been in private hands for many years. Abstracts of several thousand early marriages and wills, largely from the counties of Wilkinson, Jackson, Elbert, Hall, Baldwin, Clarke, Floyd, Lumpkin and Polk. Publications: Georgia's Roster of the Revolution, Revolutionary Soldiers' Receipts for Georgia Bounty Grants, Some Early Tax Digests of Georgia (1792-1818), and the 1923, 1925, 1927 and 1929 editions of Georgia's Official and Statistical Register.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT

The office of Attorney-General existed in Georgia from the establishment of the Provincial Government in 1754 until the adoption of the Constitution of 1789 (appointment of William Clifton Aug. 12, 1754, State Officers-Appointments, 1754-1827, p. 23), being during this period a separate and distinct office of government (see various appointments of Attorneys-General). The re-organization of the judiciary by an act of Dec. 23, 1789 placed the office of Attorney-General in commission with the duties divided between two persons styled the Attorney-General and the Solicitor-General, one to attend the Eastern Judicial Circuit and the other the Western (Watkins'

Digest, p. 389) and this arrangement continued until 1796; the act of Feb. 23, 1796 (original on file in Department of Archives and History) re-organizing the judiciary provided for three judicial circuits and again placed the office of Attorney-General in commission, with the duties divided between the Attorney-General and two Solicitors-General. The first two Attorneys-General were residents of the Western Circuit; the next three of the Eastern and all others residents of the Middle, the circuit in which the capital was located. (Solicitor-General of the circuit which embraced the seat of government, ex-officio, Attorney-General. Code of Georgia, 1861, p. 79.)
